Model Airplane Instructions

---

Dad: Son, there's no greater joy than a father helping his boy work on a model airplane.

Son: Sure Dad, but this time can we use the instructions?

Dad: Instructions?! Nah! We can do this.

Announcer: Because of His love for you, God has provided instructions on the best possible way for you to build your life.

Son: Dad, I don't think those pieces go together.

Dad: Trust me Son, this will fit. [snap] Uhhh, don't worry, landing gear is optional.

Son: My airplanes never have landing gear.

Announcer: Living life without our Creator's instructions is accepting less than what He intended.

Dad: What we need is that battle-damaged look.

Son: I just want the model to look like the picture, Dad.

Dad: Just fire up the old welding torch . . . (sound) Hmm, that's not right.

Announcer: The Bible encourages us not to lean on our own understanding, but to trust God in all we do. He promises to make our paths straight.

Dad: Now, with a few fake bushes and a little dirt, do you know what we have?

Son: Another panorama of an airplane crash?

Dad: Best one I've made so far, don't you think Son?
