[office, telephones]

Banker: Now, you're applying for a loan of $3,000?

Fred: Yes, we'd like to buy a used truck.

Banker: I see. According to this you have assets of over $10,000,000.

Fred: Well, I'm sure it's a lot more, but I had to put something down.

Banker: So why do you need a loan?

Fred: To buy a truck, it's got air conditioning.

Banker: Okay. Maybe we'd better list these assets.

Fred: Oh, okay, sure. Not that I'd ever sell them, let's see... there's my wife, she's been a real asset to me. That's got to be at least $5,000,000 right there. My boy, he just got his braces off, and, hey, he looks like a million bucks. And, well, Tracy, she's just this little jewel...

Banker: Uh, excuse me. I don't think you understand, I meant real assets.

Fred: What does money have to offer that my family doesn't?

Banker: Well it would definitely provide a lot of security.

Fred: My wife's been with me through the toughest of times, what more security do I need than that?

Banker: Well, still, you could buy a lot with $10,000,000.

Fred: You can't buy the feeling I had watching my boy hit his first home run in little league.

Announcer: Wealth, there's more than one way to measure it.
