Christmas All Year Long

Frank: So Bob, doing anything special for Christmas this year?

Bob: We're spending Christmas at my in-laws.

Alice: Heads up everybody. The boss is coming!

Frank: I'm out of here.

Boss: (Open door) Frank, before you leave.

Frank: Uh, I was just going to the copy machine.

Boss: Well, I just wanted to say thanks for doing a great job.

Frank: Uh sure. You're welcome.

Boss: Alice, how are you today?

Alice: Fine.

Boss: That's nice. Here's a box of chocolates and Merry Christmas.

Alice: Thank you.

Boss: Bob!

Bob: Yes sir?

Boss: Didn't you have some baby pictures on that wall?

Bob: He went to college last year sir.

Boss: Ah, they grow up fast don't they? Well you have Merry Christmas.

Bob: You too sir. (Door shut)

Frank: Was that our boss?

Bob: What was that all about?

Frank: I don't know. He's probably going to cut our bonus this year.

Bob: You don't think he's going to cut our pay do you?

Frank: Oh no.

Bob: What?

Frank: This is the way he acted when he laid off half the marketing department last summer.

Alice: Guys. Don't you know by now? He's that way every Christmas.

Frank/Bob: Oh.

Announcer: Christmas: the time of year when we act the way we should the rest of the year.
