The Faithful Witness

- Police: Okay, I understand you were a witness to the accident?
- Mavis: Well, I'm not good at describing things, but I was standing here looking in the general direction when it happened, but that's about all.
- Police: Well, for the police record, you want to tell me what happened?
- Mavis: I really don't think I should.
- Police: I'm sorry? Why not?
- Mavis: It's that there's a lot I just don't know.
- Police: What do you mean?
- Mavis: Well, like their names, I don't have any idea the names of anyone driving. I don't know where they came from or where they were going. What were they thinking? What were they looking at? Don't ask me, I don't know.
- Announcer: Often we forget that a witness only needs to say what he knows.
- Police: Can you just tell me what you saw when the accident happened?
- Mavis: Okay. Well, the white car ran the red light and rammed into the blue car. That's all I know. I wish I could tell you more, but that's all I got.
- Police: That'll do fine, sir.
- Announcer: The Bible tells Christians: "If anybody asks why you believe as you do, be ready to tell him." If people ask, say what you know. That's all that is required of a good witness.
