Great, Great, Great Grandfather

- Father: Well son, I'm sorry to hear you didn't get the promotion. Would ice cream help?
- Son: Ice cream? Oh come on Dad! I've been working 80-hour weeks. I wanted that job more than anything. I thought for sure I'd get it.
- Father: Let me give you some advice. Son, do you remember your great, great, great grandfather?
- Son: Uh, I don't think I ever met the man.
- Father: Neither did I. But he was a man with hopes and dreams too. Do you know what he dreamt of more than anything?
- Son: No.
- Father: Me neither. But, do you know how much money he made?
- Son: No. How much?
- Father: I don't have any idea.
- Son: Uh, is this going anywhere?
- Father: In the light of eternity everything else is either forgotten or turns to dust. Are your priorities straight?
- Son: No, I don't think so.
- Father: Come on, let's get some ice cream.
- Son: Thanks Dad. I really appreciate it, but I'm going to go home and buy my son some ice cream.
- Father: Now you got the idea.
