It's Fair for the Hogs

- 1: John, your farm can do without you for a Sunday morning.
- 2: Pastor, I wouldn't step into your church if you paid me.
- 1: Why not?
- 2: Well, I know old Wilbur who claims to be a Christian, and Joe-Bob Smith who attends your church and claims he's a Christian too, and they're about as worthless as my skinny, 3-legged hog. I'm better than they are.
- 1: Christians aren't perfect John, but I understand. Well, I'm here to buy a pig.
- 2: Boy, you've come to the right place. I've got the best hogs in the whole county.
- 1: Really?
- 2: Yeah. That one there near the trough, he won first prize at the state fair just last year.
- 1: How much for the 3-legged hog?
- 2: That old worthless thing? I'll give it to you for four dollars.
- 1: Sold. There you go.
- 2: Ok. But, why would you want that skinny ol' thing?
- 1: I'm going to take this pig and ride all over this area telling folks that this is the kind of hogs you raise.
- 2: You can't do that! I've got some of the best hogs around, and you're going to show that old thing? That ain't fair.
- 1: If it's fair for the church, it's fair for the hogs.
